Re: Protocol for resuming "in-person" sessions

Due to the ongoing impact of COVID-19, we are implementing the following changes for "in-person" counseling sessions. Our goal is to create and maintain a safe and healthy setting for you and for our clinicians.

Our counseling offices are open for in-person sessions. Telehealth sessions will remain available by phone and/or video if you'd prefer that option.

First, we've closed our small waiting area and moved chairs in the hallway and spaced them further apart. Please respect social distancing guidelines and wear a mask while waiting for your appointment.

Second, we are scheduling sessions with more time between appointments to minimize exposure and to allow cleaning between appointments.

Third, during your session wearing a mask is advised and preferable. If you have any symptoms of illness, please reschedule your appointment.

Fourth, all clients and clinicians will use hand sanitizer before and after sessions. No handshakes or hugs.

Thank you for your patience and consideration during this time. We continue to pray God's healing and protecting hand on you all.
